It always crowded in the beginning of each semester. However, it get better for few weeks.

- Events that get cancelled
- Too many first years, not enough older students / postgrads
- Having to pay a fee to come to the first event to see if I like it
- Inconvenient meeting times

decision-making

Time is an important factor for both members and non-members.

A lack of cheap events, more going out activities would also be fun.

Lack of events at uni, they are all external

Nothing

considerations: time, place, budget, events, outcomes of skill learning, peers

Don't have time

I joined a dance club, but finally I found that I could not have a whole dance perform at all.

Sometimes the event location is ambiguous, it is hard to navigate

The events they organized are extremely boring

Nothing

When I dont get enough outcome

Boring activities

They are pretty good and I don't have any unsatisfactory.

lack of numbers. needs more people language limitation, less chance for international students

It's hard to adjust time to join activities during week days.

I hardly find time to join any activities.

Sometimes I think it is a bit of wasting time

common topic

cultures and languages

not so many boys in the club

I've joint a Chinese student society club and a Korean club before. I found both of the clubs quite boring because their activities are like partner matching.. Also I'm not a gaming person. Therefore I didn't like them even though they've spent time in designing games in the activities.

Rarely am informed about events taking place

Organizer

1. To combine all of the information together. 2. To ensure everyone received the announcement and activity details.

Communication with the members

I forgot

make everyone can work together

Motivation

Finding people to join, booking rooms for the event

easy to organise, to promote, to communicate, to collaborate, to be supported, to be motivated.

If there is a new mobile app that helps you to connect your club members, would you like to try it? Why?

6 responses

Maybe, because almost we use the Wechat and the Facebook.

Yes, because it improves the efficiency of communication and is able to gather all information of the events.

I dont think so. Too busy with study and no free time

no. we use wechat now and it is efficient

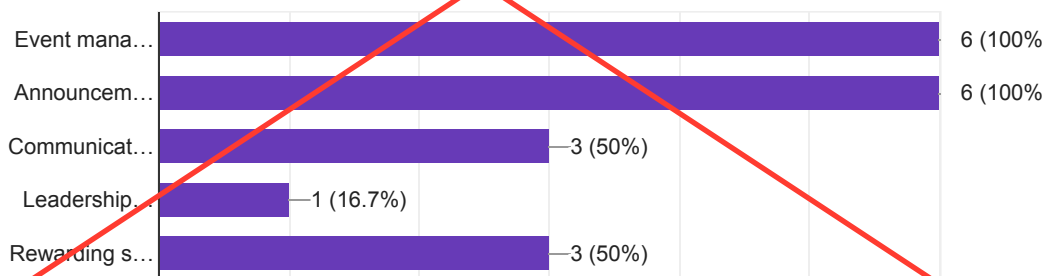

Yes

Yes, would love to use more different ways to promote my club

If yes, which three features do you want to involve in the app?
